The Silicon Valley Symphony is very excited and proud to announce our collaboration with the San Jose Dance Theatre for the 45th annual production of the Nutcracker Ballet, four performances, December 3, 4, and 5, 2010 in the Center for the Performing Arts in downtown San Jose. The SJDT invited the SVS to perform live orchestral accompaniment to Tchaikovsky's endearing ever-popular masterpiece again this year. The SVS is thrilled by this invitation and we are already busy planning and preparing for this marvelous collaboration.

In these challenging economic times, people turn to entertainment to wash away their cares. An evening at the ballet is a wonderful experience, with the beautiful sets, the elegant dancing and the live orchestral music - what better way to lift the spirit than experiencing this Holiday season classic story live.
